

This condition is seen in some diabetic patients, but I have also come across a few cases in arachnoiditis patients.

The principal features of this condition include:

nausea after meals

vomiting:

especially undigested food in the middle of the night/before breakfast;

vomiting food eaten more than 4 hours previously bloating

feeling full after only a few mouthfuls

loss of appetite

